

JVC marks ten years of delivering high quality surveillance products

For over ten years JVC has delivered high quality surveillance systems for both internal and external use. Since the launch our IP cameras, JVC has provided high quality images which previously were only found in analogue cameras, which were unknown amongst networking infrastructures.

Marking our ten year anniversary, JVC is proud to launch the VN-V225 and VN-X235 to our IP mini-dome camera line-up. Our extensive catalogue of high quality products is now completed with these four new models, from Box, mini dome, to full PTZ cameras plus our Network video recorders, JVC provides well-established IP solutions for your security needs.

JVC continues to lead the market in technological innovations and functional applications in IP and surveillance products and its new mini-domes, the VN-V225 and 235, continue to add to JVC's catalogue of cameras.
